

Information Sheet

What is this research study called?

Cultural Adaptation of Meaning-Centered Psychotherapy for Latinos

Who is conducting this research study?

Researchers in the Immigrant Health and Cancer Disparities Service at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center in New York City.

What is the purpose of this study?

We are interested in learning the themes, barriers, and preferences for psychotherapy services of Latino cancer patients.

This study will help us to adapt an intervention for Latino cancer patients.

Who will be part of this study?

We will be surveying mental health providers of Latino cancer patients.

Providers are eligible if they have:

1. A mental health practice (psychiatrist, psychologist, social workers and other mental health providers)
2. A practice with cancer patients
3. A practice with Latino patients

What does the study include?

A 15 minute survey

Please remember that this study is voluntary, anonymous and confidential.

What questions will we ask you?

We will ask you questions about...

- Age, education, country of residence, language preferences, and practice background
- Preferences, barriers and issues concerning the delivery of psychosocial, supportive and psychotherapy services for Latino cancer patients

How will this information be used?

This information will help us to adapt an intervention to meet the needs of Latino patients to help them sustain or improve their quality of life and spiritual well-being.
